

I oppose loosening the rules designed to promote and protect diversity of media ownership. These rules were adopted to ensure that the public would receive a diverse range of viewpoints from the media, and not simply the opinions of a handful of media conglomerates. The cable ownership cap is a crucial element of our democratic media, and it should not be weakened.

It is the FCC mission to serve the public, not the corporations. Perhaps it may help to read the founding documents which state the purpose of the FCC, which were written in the 1930s. Give the public diversity and do not continue with your aim to limit access and eliminate diversity by concentrating media in the hands of a few corporations.
